HUMAN BEHAVIOR COURSE LECTURERS.

David Benedek, MD MAJ, MC, USA

david.benedek@na.amedd.army.mil

Dr. Benedek is a member of the Walter Reed Army Medical Center staff and the National Capital Area Forensic Psychiatry Fellowship Director. He is a USU medical school graduate and completed general psychiatry and forensic psychiatry training in National Capital Area programs. Dr. Benedek was one of the first psychiatrists deployed to Bosnia and has presented his experiences there at an American Psychiatric Association annual meeting. Dr. Benedek comes from a rich family tradition in psychiatry: his mother is a past president of the American Psychiatric Association.

Charles Engel, MD, MPH LTC, MC, USA

cengel@usuhs.mil

Dr. Engel is co-director of the Human Behavior Course with Dr. Privitera. He is a full-time member of the USU military faculty and the chief of the Deployment Health Center (formerly the Gulf War Health Center) at Walter Reed Army Medical Center, a center specializing in treatment and research related to redeployment health issues, especially unexplained illnesses such as the infamous "Gulf War Syndrome". Dr. Engel is a consultation-liaison psychiatrist and epidemiologist and served as the First Cavalry Division psychiatrist during the Gulf War. His interests include medically unexplained physical symptoms, clinical hazard communication, psychiatric practice in primary care, psychiatric research design, health services research, and teaching psychiatrists how to interpret and use research evidence.

Frederick J. Frese, III, PhD

For 15 years until his retirement in 1995, Fred Frese he served as Director of Psychology at Western Reserve Psychiatric Hospital, a state-operated facility in the Cleveland-Akron area. A member of the National Alliance for the Mentally Ill (NAMI) since 1989, Dr. Frese is currently the First Vice President of its National Board. He currently serves on the Board of the Summit County Alliance for the Mentally Ill.

Dr. Frese has given more than 300 presentations on topics related to serious mental illness in 30 states, Canada, Puerto Rico, and Washington, D.C. He has published extensively, and has been on the advisory reviewing boards of five professional journals, including Schizophrenia Bulletin. Along with his wife, Penny, he has also co-produced a widely distributed training video about coping with schizophrenia.

Dr. Frese has been a faculty member at Case Western Reserve University, Kent State, Ohio University, and Ashland Theological Seminary. He has also served as Chairperson of the Akron Area Mental Health Board. Dr. Frese was the founder and first president of Community and State Hospital Psychologists, the American Psychological Association's division for psychologists serving persons with serious mental illness. He also was on the Board of Trustees of the Ohio Psychological Association, where he served as Chair of the committee for the Mentally Ill Homeless. Additionally, he served as president of the National Mental Health Consumers' Association.

Dr. Frese served as a consultant to the Department of Veterans Affairs on a project to improve clinical practice. He has testified before congressional committees on priorities for public mental health services and is a part of the American Psychological Association Task Force for the Seriously Mentally Ill/Seriously Emotionally Disturbed.

Ralph Gemelli, MD CAPT(RET), MC, USN

gemelli@tidalwave.net

Dr. Gemelli is the founder of the USU Human Behavior Course, is a past psychiatric residency training director at National Naval Medical Center, and has been teaching the normal development portion of the course for many years. He is a psychoanalyst and is currently on the teaching faculty at the prestigious Washington Psychoanalytic Institute. He has recently published an excellent book on normal childhood development (10 copies are available for students in the library). Students consistently rate Dr. Gemelli's lectures as among the very best in the second year, and he is the recipient of numerous teaching awards. Dr. Gemelli is a Naval Academy graduate; the first Academy graduate to go directly into medical school upon completion of his Annapolis education.

Molly Hall, MD Col, MC, USAF

mhall@usuhs.mil

Dr. Hall is assigned to the Department of Psychiatry, USUHS as an associate professor. She has served in several capacities in the National Capital Area including Chief, Clinical Quality Management Division, Air Force Medical Operations Agency, Bolling AFB (1998-2000); Flight Commander, Mental Health Flight 89th Medical Group, Andrews AFB (1995-1998) and Consultant for Psychiatry to the USAF Surgeon General (1995-1999). Dr. Hall attended Yale College as a member of the first class of women and graduated magna cum laude in 1973 with Departmental Honors in Combined Sciences, Biology and Psychology. Col Hall attended Cornell University Medical College where she was elected to Alpha Omega Alpha in 1976. She joined the Air Force in 1985 and was assigned to Wright-Patterson AFB where she was the Psychiatry Residency program director until 1995. Col Hall received numerous Wright State University faculty awards, including the Career Achievement award in 1995 and was the recipient of the first annual Excellence in Medical Education award conferred by the American Psychiatric Association (APA) in 1991. She has served as a psychiatric consultant to the Astronaut Selection Board at NASA since graduating from the Aerospace Primary Course at Brooks AFB in 1990. Col Hall is a distinguished graduate of the Aerospace Medicine Course and a distinguished graduate of the Air War College Seminar. Col Hall has four children: Kate, Aaron, Hannah and Sarah and three dogs: Elsa, Bou and Merlin.

Jan Hanson, PhDjhanson@usuhs.mil

Dr. Hanson is a special educator and Research Assistant Professor of Pediatrics. She and Dr. Randall co-direct a project that involves parents of children with special needs and adults with chronic health conditions as advisors to the medical education program at USUHS. They have presented abstracts about family-centered care, involving patients and families as advisors, and the patient/physician relationship at many professional meetings. Before coming to USUHS, Dr. Hanson was Director for Research and Evaluation at the Institute for Family-Centered Care from 1992-1999. She has worked in a wide variety of educational and research settings, including special education programs for children of all ages, the DoD system of services for children with special needs, and pre-service and in-service education programs for educators and physicians. Dr. Hanson and Dr. Randall along with several parents will teach the lecture on developmental and learning disorders.

Harry Holloway, MD COL(RET), MC, USAhhollowa@impop.bellatlantic.net

Dr. Holloway is internationally respected as the dean of modern military psychiatry. He served thirty years in the US Army Medical Corps including tours in the Vietnam War, Thailand, and Walter Reed Army Institute of Research. He has around 50 publications and many scholarly works to his credit. He finished his active duty career as the first Chairman of Psychiatry at USU and later held positions as Deputy Dean and Acting Dean of the medical school and the director of life sciences at NASA. Arguably, Dr. Holloway knows more about substance abuse in the military than any other physician does. Currently, he is a co-principal investigator on a project aiming at assembling a scholarly history of substance use in the military through the year 1985. Dr. Holloway will speak to us on alcohol and other substance abuse, disorders due to traumatic events, and on military psychiatry.

Kay Redfield Jamison, PhD

Dr. Jamison is the daughter of an Air Force officer and was brought up in the Washington, D.C. area. She attended UCLA as an undergraduate and as a graduate student in psychology, and she joined the medical school faculty there in 1974. She later founded the UCLA Affective Disorders Clinic, which has treated thousands of patients for depression and manic-depression.

Dr. Jamison is now Professor of Psychiatry at the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine. The textbook on manic-depressive illness that she wrote in association with Dr. Frederick Goodwin was chosen in 1990 as the Most Outstanding Book in Biomedical Sciences by the Association of American Publishers. She is also the author of, Touched with Fire: Manic-Depressive Illness and the Artistic Temperament (1993), and has produced three public television specials on the subject: one on manic-depressive composers, one on Vincent van Gogh, and one on Lord Byron. In recent years she has written and spoken extensively on her own battle with bipolar disorder, publishing two award winning books, one on bipolar disorder (An Unquiet Mind, 1997), and one on suicide (Night Falls Fast: Understanding Suicide, 2000)

The recipient of numerous national and international scientific awards, Dr. Jamison was a member of the first National Advisory Council for Human Genome Research, and is currently the clinical director for the Dana Consortium on the Genetic Basis of Manic-Depressive Illness.

Timothy Lacy, MD Maj, MC, USAFtlacy@usuhs.mil

Dr. Lacy is the Malcolm Grow Medical Center site director for the National Capital Area Psychiatry Residency Program and the director of Family Practice - Psychiatry Combined Residency Program. Dr. Lacy is a graduate of Wilford Hall Air Force Psychiatry Residency Program. He is an expert on neuropsychiatry.

Charles Privitera, MD COL(RET), MC, USA

crivitera@usuhs.mil

Dr. Privitera is co-director of the Human Behavior Course with Dr. Engel. USU students know him best as the psychiatrist at the USU Student Health Center. He is a noted teacher and practitioner of family therapy who is a past USU Dean for Student Affairs. Dr. Privitera has many years of experience in academic medicine and medical student education. His parallel and complimentary roles as student counselor, mentor, and colleague make him ideally suited to teach the course lectures on adult development, the military family, and medical marriages. Dr. Privitera retired from Army medicine after a long and decorated military career.

Ginny Randall, MD COL, MC, USA

vrandall@usuhs.mil

Dr. Randall is a developmental pediatrician interested in children under three years of age with developmental disabilities such as cerebral palsy, mental retardation, and autism. She has been an Army pediatrician for 27 years, first as a general pediatrician in Alaska for 6 years, then specializing in developmental pediatrics, then doing a 9 year stretch at the Army Surgeon General's Office working on the policy and budget associated with the care of children with special needs in overseas locations. Currently, Dr. Randall is teaching pediatrics at USU and collaborating with Dr. Hanson in research involving parents of children with special needs as participants and facilitators of medical education.

E. Fuller Torrey, MD

Dr. Torrey is an internationally respected expert, clinician, and scientist specializing in schizophrenia and bipolar disorder. He is the Executive Director of the Stanley Foundation Research Programs, which supports research on schizophrenia and bipolar disorder. From 1976 to 1985, Dr. Torrey was on the clinical staff at St. Elizabeths Hospital, specializing in the treatment of severe psychiatric disorders. From 1988 to 1992, he directed a study of identical twins with schizophrenia and bipolar disorder. His research has explored viruses as a possible cause of these disorders, and he has carried out research in Ireland and Papua New Guinea. Dr. Torrey was educated at Princeton University (BA, Magna Cum Laude), McGill University (MD), and Stanford University (MA in Anthropology). He trained in psychiatry at Stanford University School of Medicine. He practiced general medicine in Ethiopia for two years as a Peace Corps physician, in the South Bronx in an OEO health center, and in Alaska in the Indian Health Service. From 1970 to 1975, he was a special assistant to the Director of the National Institute of Mental Health.

Dr. Torrey is the author of 16 books and more than 200 lay and professional papers. Some of his books have been translated into Japanese, Russian, Italian, and Polish. Dr. Torrey has appeared on national television (e.g., Donahue, Oprah, 20/20, 60 Minutes, and Dateline) and has written for many newspapers. He received two Commendation Medals from the US Public Health Service, a 1984 Special Families Award from the National Alliance for the Mentally Ill (NAMI), a 1991 National Caring Award, and in 1999 received research awards from the International Congress of Schizophrenia and from NARSAD.

Robert J. Ursano, MD Col(Ret), USAF, MC

rursano@usuhs.mil

Dr. Ursano is a rabid Notre Dame football fan. When he is not rooting for the Fighting Irish, he serves as Professor and Chair, USU Department of Psychiatry. Dr. Ursano is an internationally respected expert on psychiatric responses to trauma who has co-authored more than 100 publications and written or edited several books. He is a psychoanalyst who has written and lectured extensively on psychotherapy, including psychotherapy for the medically ill, and he is on the editorial board of the Journal of Psychotherapy Research & Practice and Military Medicine. He completed his undergraduate education at Notre Dame. He went to medical school at Yale, but he doesn't seem to follow the Yale football team very closely.
